Base Fee	$3,000 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Community-Based Protection Strategies play a critical role in fostering resilience, ensuring inclusive humanitarian action, and strengthening community-led solutions in the face of displacement, conflict, and natural disasters. Community-Based Protection Strategies Training Course has been carefully designed to equip participants with advanced knowledge and practical skills to apply community-centered approaches to protection, focusing on participation, accountability, and empowerment. Through case studies, interactive sessions, and real-life examples, participants will learn how to design, implement, and evaluate protection interventions that are relevant, sustainable, and culturally sensitive.

With the rise of global humanitarian challenges such as forced displacement, gender-based violence, and climate-induced risks, the need for innovative, community-led protection mechanisms is more urgent than ever. This training introduces participants to key strategies, tools, and frameworks that enhance collaboration with affected communities while promoting dignity, self-reliance, and inclusive decision-making. By the end of the course, learners will be equipped with actionable insights to design protection strategies that prioritize local ownership and long-term sustainability.
