Course Introduction

The Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process (ICAAP) is a critical pillar of modern banking risk management, enabling financial institutions to assess, maintain, and optimize capital adequacy beyond minimum regulatory requirements. ICAAP Implementation for Banks Training Course equips banking professionals with practical knowledge and advanced techniques to develop, implement, validate, and enhance ICAAP frameworks that align with global regulatory standards, strengthen governance, and improve strategic decision-making.

Participants will gain hands-on expertise in designing robust ICAAP models, conducting risk-based capital assessments, performing scenario analysis, reverse stress testing, and integrating Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) risks, digital banking risks, cyber risk, and AI-driven risk analytics into capital planning. Through practical case studies, regulatory guidance, industry best practices, and real-world banking examples, the program enables participants to strengthen capital resilience, improve regulatory compliance, enhance board reporting, and support sustainable growth while meeting supervisory expectations from central banks and international regulators.
