Course Outline

Module 1: Foundations of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) in Libraries

- Understanding the interconnectedness of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility.
- Exploring the historical context and evolution of DEIA in library services.
- Identifying systemic barriers and unconscious biases in traditional library practices.
- Defining the library's role as a social justice institution and community anchor.
- Legal and ethical considerations for inclusive library services.
- Case Study: Analyzing a library's journey from a traditional service model to a community-centered, DEIA-driven approach, highlighting challenges and successes in staff buy-in and initial policy changes.

Module 2: Understanding Diverse & Underserved Populations

- Demographics and socio-cultural characteristics of various diverse groups (e.g., immigrants, refugees, Indigenous communities, racial/ethnic minorities).
- Exploring the unique information needs and access challenges faced by low-income communities and rural populations.
- Understanding the experiences of LGBTQ+ individuals and neurodivergent patrons in library spaces.
- Addressing linguistic diversity and strategies for serving non-English speaking patrons.
- Empathy-building exercises to foster deeper understanding of diverse perspectives.

- Case Study: A library in a rapidly changing urban neighborhood identifies a significant influx of new immigrant populations. Explore how they conducted a community needs assessment to understand specific linguistic and cultural requirements, leading to tailored services and resource development.

Module 3: Inclusive Library Policies and Practices

- Developing equitable and welcoming library policies, including privacy, conduct, and access.
- Strategies for creating physically and digitally accessible library spaces (e.g., ADA compliance, website accessibility, assistive technologies).
- Implementing trauma-informed library services and creating safe environments.
- Cultivating an anti-racist and anti-oppressive organizational culture.
- Best practices for handling challenging situations with sensitivity and respect.
- Case Study: A library reviews its existing circulation and overdue fine policies. Analyze how these policies disproportionately affected low-income patrons and how the library revised them to promote equitable access and reduce barriers, leading to increased cardholdership.

Module 4: Cultural Competence and Intercultural Communication

- Defining and developing cultural competence in library staff.
- Effective intercultural communication strategies and avoiding cultural insensitivity.
- Recognizing and addressing microaggressions and implicit biases in daily interactions.
- Building rapport and trust with patrons from diverse cultural backgrounds.
- Navigating cultural norms and expectations in library programming and interactions.
- Case Study: A library hosts a cultural festival. Examine instances where staff demonstrated cultural competence and where they could improve, focusing on communication styles, event planning, and engagement with community cultural liaisons.

Module 5: Inclusive Collection Development & Management

- Principles of diverse and inclusive collection development, including #OwnVoices and mirror/window concepts.
- Strategies for auditing existing collections for gaps and biases.
- Acquiring materials that reflect a wide range of experiences, perspectives, and languages.
- Promoting diverse collections through merchandising, displays, and reader's advisory.
- Navigating challenges related to censorship and controversial materials while upholding intellectual freedom and diversity.
- Case Study: A school library discovers its collection lacks representation for its growing Latinx student population. Detail the steps taken to diversify the collection, including community input, vendor selection, and curriculum integration, leading to increased student engagement with books.

Module 6: Accessible Programming and Community Engagement

- Designing and implementing accessible and culturally relevant library programs for all ages.
- Strategies for effective community outreach and engagement with underserved populations.
- Building authentic community partnerships and collaborations.
- Leveraging library programs to address social determinants of health and well-being.
- Utilizing diverse marketing and communication channels to reach target audiences.
- Case Study: A public library successfully partners with a local refugee resettlement agency to offer English language learning classes and cultural exchange programs. Analyze the partnership development, program design, and impact on the refugee community's integration.

Module 7: Digital Inclusion and Technology Access

- Understanding the digital divide and its impact on diverse communities.
- Strategies for providing equitable access to technology and internet services.
- Developing and delivering digital literacy training programs tailored to various skill levels and needs.
- Addressing accessibility in digital resources and online platforms.
- Leveraging technology to enhance outreach and connect with remote or isolated populations.
- Case Study: A library implements a mobile hotspot lending program and provides digital literacy workshops in a rural community with limited internet access. Evaluate the program's success in bridging the digital divide and empowering residents.

Module 8: Sustaining DEIA & Future-Ready Libraries

- Strategies for ongoing DEIA assessment, evaluation, and continuous improvement.
- Building a diverse and inclusive library workforce: recruitment, retention, and professional development.
- The role of inclusive leadership in driving organizational change.
- Advocacy for DEIA initiatives at local, regional, and national levels.
- Developing a personal action plan for long-term DEIA implementation and impact.
- Case Study: A library system establishes a permanent DEIA committee with clear objectives, budget, and reporting mechanisms. Explore how this committee drives systemic change, staff training, and ongoing evaluation of DEIA metrics across all branches.

Training Methodology

This course employs a highly interactive and experiential learning approach, combining:

- Interactive Lectures and Discussions: Facilitating knowledge acquisition and critical thinking.
- Case Studies and Scenario-Based Learning: Applying theoretical concepts to real-world library challenges.
- Group Activities and Collaborative Exercises: Fostering peer learning and problem-solving.
- Guest Speakers: Featuring experts and community leaders sharing lived experiences and best practices.
- Reflective Journaling and Personal Action Planning: Encouraging individual growth and commitment to DEIA.
- Multimedia Resources: Utilizing videos, articles, and relevant online tools.
