Course Outline

Module 1: Foundations of Effective Negotiation for Librarians

- Understanding the nature of negotiation in the library context.
- Identifying common negotiation scenarios for librarians (e.g., vendor contracts, budget requests, patron issues).
- Distinguishing between positional bargaining and interest-based negotiation.
- The role of power dynamics and ethical considerations in library negotiations.
- Developing a positive and proactive negotiation mindset.
- Case Study: A small public library needs to renew its subscription to a popular online database but faces a significant price increase. How do they identify their core interests beyond price and prepare for a successful negotiation?

Module 2: Strategic Planning for Library Negotiations

- Defining your Best Alternative to a Negotiated Agreement (BATNA).
- Thorough preparation: research, data gathering (e.g., usage statistics), and stakeholder analysis.
- Setting clear objectives and realistic expectations for negotiation outcomes.
- Identifying key stakeholders and understanding their interests and priorities.
- Developing a compelling value proposition for library services and resources.
- Case Study: An academic librarian is preparing to negotiate with a university department for increased funding for a new subject-specific collection. What data and arguments should they prepare?

Module 3: Communication & Active Listening in Library Contexts

- Mastering verbal and non-verbal communication cues.
- Techniques for active listening and empathetic understanding in difficult conversations.
- Asking open-ended questions to uncover underlying interests.

- Framing arguments effectively and persuasively for diverse audiences.
- Overcoming communication barriers in cross-cultural or hierarchical settings.
- Case Study: A patron is verbally aggressive about a late fee. How can the librarian use active listening and empathetic responses to de-escalate the situation?

Module 4: Interest-Based Negotiation for Librarians

- Shifting from positions to interests: identifying needs, concerns, and desires.
- Brainstorming options for mutual gain and value creation.
- Developing objective criteria for fair and equitable outcomes.
- Techniques for separating the person from the problem.
- Strategies for building trust and rapport in collaborative negotiations.
- Case Study: Two library departments have conflicting requests for a shared software license. How can they use interest-based negotiation to find a solution that satisfies both?

Module 5: Negotiating Electronic Resource Licenses

- Understanding key clauses in electronic resource licenses (e.g., authorized users, perpetual access, interlibrary loan rights).
- Strategies for negotiating favorable pricing models and multi-year agreements.
- Leveraging consortia negotiation for collective bargaining power.
- Addressing usage data, archiving, and accessibility considerations.
- Preparing for renewals and managing publisher relationships.
- Case Study: A consortium of libraries is negotiating a multi-year deal with a major journal publisher. What specific terms should they prioritize and how can they leverage their collective size?

Module 6: Vendor Relationship Management & Negotiation

- Building long-term, strategic partnerships with library vendors.
- Strategies for managing vendor expectations and addressing service issues.
- Negotiating service level agreements (SLAs) and performance metrics.
- Handling price increases and exploring alternative solutions.
- Developing a fair and transparent vendor selection process.
- Case Study: A library has a long-standing relationship with a book vendor but is experiencing consistent delays in delivery. How can they negotiate improved service without jeopardizing the relationship?

Module 7: Resolving Patron Conflicts & Difficult Interactions

- Identifying triggers and patterns in challenging patron behavior.
- De-escalation techniques for angry, frustrated, or disruptive patrons.
- Setting boundaries and enforcing library policies effectively and respectfully.
- Strategies for handling sensitive or emotionally charged situations.
- Referral pathways for complex issues or mental health concerns.
- Case Study: A homeless patron is causing a disturbance in the quiet study area. How can library staff calmly and respectfully address the situation while maintaining a safe environment?

Module 8: Internal Library Negotiations & Team Collaboration

- Negotiating roles and responsibilities within library teams.
- Resolving conflicts among colleagues and fostering a collaborative environment.
- Gaining buy-in for new initiatives and departmental changes.

- Strategies for effective communication with library management and staff.
- Mediating disagreements and finding common ground in diverse teams.
- Case Study: A new digital preservation project requires significant time commitment from multiple library departments, leading to internal resistance. How can the project lead negotiate support and resource allocation?

Module 9: Budget Negotiation & Resource Advocacy

- Developing compelling arguments for library budget requests.
- Presenting data and demonstrating the library's return on investment (ROI).
- Strategies for advocating for new programs, staffing, and technology.
- Understanding institutional budgeting cycles and decision-making processes.
- Negotiating for optimal allocation of existing resources.
- Case Study: The library needs a significant budget increase to upgrade its integrated library system. How can the library director present a compelling case to university leadership?

Module 10: Interlibrary Loan & Resource Sharing Negotiations

- Understanding the legal and ethical frameworks of interlibrary loan.
- Negotiating reciprocal agreements with other libraries and consortia.
- Addressing copyright compliance and fair use in resource sharing.
- Optimizing workflows and communication for efficient ILL services.
- Resolving disputes related to borrowed or loaned materials.
- Case Study: A university library is seeking to expand its interlibrary loan partnerships to include specialized regional archives. What terms and agreements need to be negotiated?

Module 11: Negotiating for Career Advancement & Professional Growth

- Preparing for salary negotiations and understanding market value.
- Negotiating job descriptions, responsibilities, and professional development opportunities.
- Highlighting accomplishments and demonstrating value during performance reviews.
- Strategies for internal promotions and advocating for new roles.
- Building a strong professional network and seeking mentorship.
- Case Study: A librarian is offered a new position but the initial salary offer is lower than expected. How can they effectively negotiate for a higher salary and better benefits?

Module 12: Ethical Considerations in Library Negotiation

- Understanding professional codes of ethics in librarianship.
- Maintaining integrity and transparency in all negotiation processes.
- Avoiding conflicts of interest and biased decision-making.
- The importance of fairness, respect, and mutual benefit.
- Addressing power imbalances and advocating for equitable outcomes.
- Case Study: A vendor offers a significant personal perk to a librarian in exchange for signing a contract. How should the librarian navigate this ethical dilemma?

Module 13: Advanced Negotiation Tactics & Strategies

- Understanding and countering common negotiation tactics (e.g., good cop/bad cop, limited authority).
- When to make the first offer and how to anchor effectively.
- The art of making concessions and asking for reciprocation.
- Strategies for breaking deadlocks and re-energizing stalled negotiations.
- Knowing when to walk away from a deal (BATNA revisited).

- Case Study: A library is in a tough negotiation with a vendor who is using aggressive tactics. How can the librarian respond strategically without succumbing to pressure?

Module 14: Digital & Virtual Negotiation Skills

- Best practices for online negotiation through email, video conferencing, and chat.
- Building rapport and trust in a virtual environment.
- Managing distractions and maintaining focus in digital negotiations.
- Utilizing digital tools for collaborative document sharing and agreement.
- Cybersecurity considerations in remote negotiation.
- Case Study: A library is negotiating a complex software license with an overseas vendor entirely via video conference. How can they ensure clear communication and build trust despite the geographical distance?

Module 15: Implementing a Negotiation Framework in Your Library

- Developing a standardized negotiation process for key library operations.
- Training staff in negotiation best practices and ongoing professional development.
- Creating a culture of collaborative problem-solving and strategic thinking.
- Measuring the impact of improved negotiation skills on library outcomes.
- Continuous learning and adapting negotiation strategies to evolving library needs.
- Case Study: The library director wants to establish a negotiation policy and training program for all staff. What steps should they take to implement this effectively?
