

Union Representation During Disciplinary Hearings Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Trade Unions	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

In today's highly regulated and employee-centered workplace, effective union representation during disciplinary hearings has become a critical competency for trade union officials, shop stewards, HR professionals, and employee relations practitioners. Organizations are facing increasing scrutiny regarding workplace justice, procedural fairness, employee rights protection, labor law compliance, grievance handling, industrial relations stability, and dispute resolution mechanisms. Union Representation During Disciplinary Hearings Training Course equips participants with practical strategies, legal knowledge, and negotiation techniques required to professionally represent employees during disciplinary proceedings while safeguarding organizational integrity and promoting constructive labor-management relations.

The course is designed to strengthen participants' expertise in collective bargaining, workplace investigations, disciplinary procedures, employee advocacy, conflict management, industrial court preparation, evidence handling, workplace mediation, compliance auditing, and labor relations leadership. Through real-life case studies, simulations, role plays, and legal analysis, participants will gain hands-on experience in managing disciplinary hearings confidently, minimizing legal exposure, and ensuring fair representation practices aligned with modern employment standards and emerging workplace trends.
